SCENE AT THE QUARRY PIT AFTER WEDNESDAY'S AUTO CATASTROPHE

There have been frequent mishaps, of course, but that guardian spirit known as "Good Luck" has long protected Janesville, its residents and the strangers within its gates, from automobile accidents which seriously endangered life and limb. The church failed to work last Wednesday afternoon when a Deloit party consisting ward. He had reached the ledge of rock shown in the upper left-hand corner of the picture, when, in throwing the clutch from high speed to low too slowly, the engine "blow." The brakes failed to hold and the machine backed over the embankment, hurled and swaying in its swift downward course and almost completely "turning turtle" at the bottom of the of Banker Walter M. Brittan and wife and Banker Fred M. Strong, wife, and daughter, returning home towards sunset, met with a terrible accident at the old, abandoned quarry pit just south of the Monterey bridge. Center avenue was blocked some distance further on and in order to make a detour, Mr. Brittan followed careless directions and took the first road to the right, a steep, tortuous, and narrow highway leading west-thirty-foot hole. The picture was taken after the big $3,500 Royal Tourist car had been righted and the prisoners released. Mr. Brittan is slowly recovering from his terrible experience at the hospital, where Mrs. Brittan has had the limbo finger of the right hand amputated at the first joint. The others miraculously escaped injury. About $100 damage was done to the car and it has been shipped back to the factory.

Blavatsky and Colonel Henry Steele Olcott, the latter formerly a well-known newspaper man and a veteran of the civil war. Its headquarters are in Adyar, India, and it is represented by active lodges on every continent and in most of the civilized countries of the world. Its lodges are self-governing and the individual members are accorded the utmost freedom. Mme. Blavatsky was succeeded in the presidency by Col. ## IN MEMORY OF OHIO'S ORIGINAL FOUNDERS

Exercises Held at Rutland, Mass., Where Ohio Company Was Formed
to Go into the West.

Rutland, Mass., Sept. 14.—Exercises of more than ordinary interest, together with a historical pageant, were held here today under the auspices of the Rufus Putnam Memorial Association to commemorate the events that led up to the founding and settlement of the State of Ohio.

Rutland is known historically as the "Cradle of Ohio," for here lived General Putnam who planned and nurtured the Ohio company, which went out into the then wild western country and settled the town of Marietta in 1788. Putnam's old home here still stands, the house from which was issued the call for the convention which led to the organization of the Ohio company, and over the threshold of which the famous old soldier went to lead that company to the great Northwest. The house is now a public memorial, with its rooms admirably restored and filled with a valuable historical collection.

Today's commemoration began this morning with a representation of the departure of Gen. Putnam and his party for Ohio. The party went with three ox teams, two yokes of oxen to each team, one two-horse carriage and Gen. Putnam's saddle horse. They took four cows and one bull. The party started from the Rufus Putnam house and passed through the village and back, pausing for brief exercises before the church.

This afternoon a public meeting was held in Town hall at which President Carroll D. Wright of Clark College presided. The principal address was given by Prof. James K. Hooper on the subject of "New England and the West." His address was preceded by words of greeting from representatives of the Western Society of Boston and the Ohio Society of New York.

Espinosa is noted throughout South America as a champion rifle shot and of late has been with a circus. The crowning feature of the exhibition has been the shooting of an apple from the head of his assistant. In doing this William Tell feat here he missed his target and the bullet struck the apple-bearer, killing instantaneously. The crowd that was witnessing the exhibition left the seats on a mass and rushed upon Espinosa. He was beaten and bruised badly and barely escaped lynching.

COAL MEN OF THE PACIFIC COAST SHOW CLOVEN HOOF

Will Refuse To Enter Any Bids For Supplying
the U. S. Gunboats With Coal, And England Must Furnish It.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Sept. 14.—The situation with regard to the proposals issued by the bureau of equipment of the navy department for supplying coal for the battleship fleet on its voyage to the Pacific, says the Journal of Commerce, has assumed rather interesting shape here by the statements of several agents of the larger coal mining concerns that they would not present bids. Their reasons are that they have not the necessary quantity of coal on hand, aside from the quantity demanded by private contracts already entered into.

The companies claim that they have no reserve stocks on hand amounting to anything, and that the labor situation is such that they cannot increase their mining capacity.

"The coal, it was stated, can be obtained in England if it is necessary to go there, but the prices will undoubtedly be what might be classed as 'fancy.'"

"BLACK POPE" SOON TO VISIT AMERICA

Head of the Jesuit Order Coming
Over to This Side to Visit Branches of Order.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Rome, Sept. 14.—Practical confirmation has been received of the rumor that the "Black Pope," as the General of the Jesuit Order is called, will soon pay a visit to the branches of his order in America. Francis Xavier Wernz, a German by birth, is the present head of the order, having been elected just a year ago in succession to the late Father Martin. At the time of his election, Father Wernz was rector of the Gregorian university here. He has devoted himself principally to canon law, and is considered one of the greatest living authorities on this subject.

The Jesuits are a remarkable body of men. The internal regulations of the society are very similar to those of an army in respect of obedience and executive. There are at the present time about 15,000 in the world, collected in twenty-five provinces, under the control of provincials. Every official except the general, who is elected for life, and can only be deposed for some moral, personal error (such a thing has not occurred in the 400 years of its existence), is elected for a term.

The general of the society is one of the hardest-worked men in a hard-working world. Every member of the society may write in complaint or for advice to the very reverend father, and though there is a permanent staff of secretaries, the general is supposed to pass every reply. Moreover, he must control many, many of whom are more brilliant than himself, and tremendously strong-willed, and in addition he has to conduct the external relations of the society. The political influence of the "Black Pope" is a matter of history.

Another ecclesiastical dignitary who will soon go to the United States is Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, who will represent the Vatican at the Eschscholtz Congress at Pittsburgh next month. Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli should not be confused with his better known and more ambitious brother, Cardinal Serafini Vannutelli, who is Prefect of the Congregation of Council. The two brothers are the grandsons of a man who rose from an attic room in the first Napoleon's most beautiful sister, Princess Pauline Borghese. She was as free in her gifts and her expenditures as in her affairs of heart, and under the circumstances, it is not astonishing that her fanaticism should have amassed in her service the large fortunes which his grandsons, the two Cardinals, enjoy to this day.

Samuel Langhorne Clemens, so much better known by his pen name of Mark Twain, was born at Phelps, Mo., on Nov. 30th, 1835. He was educated at Hannibal, Mo., but after his marked success in literature he has received many degrees from various institutions of learning. He went to work as an apprentice to a printer when only 12 years of age and then was city editor of the Mississippi Pilot. He married Miss Olivia L.
Langdon of Elmira, N. Y., in 1870.
Mark Twain despite his great success as a humorist failed in a private business which he founded. Twain found himself facing a big indebtedness which he, however, managed to pay off after years of hard work. His "Innocents Abroad" and the "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn" series laid the foundation for his great success.
He has been made much of abroad and is very popular in England.

OSTRICH PLUMES TO BE UNCURLD AND COLLARS VERY HIGH

Brown Shoes Will be Worn More Than Ever This Winter and Velvets Will be Very Popular—The Mushroom Hat is Still All the Rage in Paris.

New York, Sept. 14.—Autumn fashions are now coming to the front and many of the new styles are exceedingly pretty. The tailored suits should be mentioned first, because they have such an important part in the fall wardrobe. Skirts are decidedly in favor for all tailors and are seen particularly in broadcloth, which, by the way, is as popular as ever, for it is suitable for both dress and plain costumes. Black and white are common to be a leading color in stripes. The monotony of black and white is often relieved by trimmings of rhinestone, drom pink, peacock green, Woodstock blue or the new Venetian purple. The shawl check is the very latest design for broadcloth.

Velvets are to be worn this winter more than ever before. The new velvet is as thin as muslin and is called "Velour Salome." This is very soft and pliable and leaves no trace of creasing after it has been folded or wrinkled. The chiffon velvet, which will be used as much as last season,
will be produced in Oriental designs, with colorings of the rainbow. The Roman stripes is sure to be popular for the effect of the colors, which are quite in tone, makes it very artistic.

The silk and velvet stripes combined makes an attractive material for autumn.

Linen suits will be worn all through the fall, as this goods can be bought in heavy weight as well as in the light weight, which makes it suitable for cool weather. Many separate linen coats are lined with plaid taffeta and are very pretty for motor or park wear.

The one hat that is worn by Paris women is the mushroom. It is modified in various ways, but it has the dome and is worn on the back of the head over a most elaborate coiffure.
The bandana has entirely disappeared, so it is quite necessary to wear the hair pulled to fill out the apex under the arm. The flowers that trim these hats are certainly beautiful. Such natural looking white lilies, orchids, morning glories, petunias, dahlias and muscadines are made that it is hard to distinguish them from the real flowers.

Ostrich plumes are to be uncurred this season and they are developed in many different ways. What are called "straw" feathers is the very newest effect. The plume is taken apart and the separate feathers are sewed on ribons. The plumage which complains with its wide quills seem to be a late favorite, and the parrot feathers share popularity with the ostrich plume.

The new collars are ridiculously high, some of them reaching four inches. Many of them are pointed under the ears as the fashion was eight or ten years ago. They must fit perfectly, and it takes a very skilled hand to make them correctly.

It is said that brown shoes will be worn more than ever this winter.
Pumps continue to be popular for women who can wear them. The tall brown shoe fastened with buttons of a lighter color are very smart. A brown shoe is always comfortable, it wears well and keeps its shape better than a black one, so this is a very practical style.

Such pretty blue or violet silk coats
are made to wear over white gowns.
The color should be carried out in the parasol and the great drooping white hat may be trimmed with orchids which cover the crown, and the trimming with violet velvet. Long gloves of the orchid tint should be worn with this.

The vest or waistcoat has become an important part of the tailored costume. The new checked plume is a favorite material for a vest, and especially in a conventional Oriental design in brown, dull blue or gray, and equally as pretty is of black satin embroidered in Japanese attitudes and colors, with much gold thread intermingled.

Long light-fitting or semi-fitting coats reach almost to the shoptops, and are lined with soft-toned trimmings of soutache, or silk braiding.
With these long coats are worn skirts
to match, cut on the circular model, and trimmed only with braid and inlaid bands. These circular skirts will be favorites this winter.

A neck ruche that has lately been shown is of plushings of cream chiffon and silk lace laid overlapping the other.
A lattice of brown velvet ribbon is next to the face and shows the plaiding underneath. Narrow brown velvet ribbons made in loops and ends finish this ruche.

"LEFT IN SKY" BY GRADING WORK OWNER DEMANDS $3,000 DAMAGES

Whenever grading work is done in a hilly section of a municipality there is trouble in store for the city. At the council meeting of Sept. 2 damage claims aggregating $6,000 were submitted by owners of property fronting on Garfield avenue, Wheeler and Carrington streets, and other met as a committee of a whole at the call of Chairman J. J. Hahn of the Judiciary committee to investigate these claims. No definite conclusions were reached. Several of the abler men visited the scene in the police patrol wagon this morning.

Another meeting will be held just thoroughfare in Riverside Park, as the result of the city's grading operations in that section. Among the claims was one for $3,000 from Mr.

Pauline Robinson, whose property at the corner of Garfield avenue and Carrington street was left "way up in the sky," as shown in the cut.

Last Tuesday noon the city council

prior to the council session next Monday night. It is not unlikely that some plan of arbitration will be agreed upon. It appears to have been conceded that the property-owners are entitled to some redress and it is known that they are willing to submit their claims to a disinterested committee of three.

TWO ARSON CHARGES AND ONE OF FRAUD

Were Preferred Against William
Clark Yesterday and He Was Held for Trial on All.

When William Clark, tenant on the David Moore farm near Afon, was brought into Municipal court at four o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been arrested on three different warrants, two charging arson and one charging the obtaining of money under false pretenses. The action is the outgrowth of an investigation of the two fires on the Moore farm, one of which destroyed the barn and out-buildings on July 26 and the other the house on July 28. Clark was held for trial next Thursday and admitted to bail of $800. Being unable to turn-ish the necessary bonds he was committed to the county jail.

ford Country club yesterday but depositors who like to juggle with scores claim that the score—22 to 14, or 8 up, Nassau system—is a far more creditable one from the standpoint of the losers than the 24 to 12, or 22 up, defeat which Rockefeller encountered here. Of course there were 23 pairs of contestants on that occasion, which gave the "vantage" a larger opportunity to roll up the figures. But the point remains that the larger losing team in one instance only gathered in 12 points, whereas the smaller one in the second case got away with fourteen.

P. D. Keeler turned the tables on Al Schaller and defeated him by two points. But Earl Kelley who won from Geo. Brownell on the local grounds was lower to P. D. Fitch by two points. Orion Sutherland, H. S. Mc-Gill, Fred Schaller, and Wilson Lane were the other point winners. Leo Brownell, A. P. Burnham, and others were unable to make the trip but Mr. Burnham sent as a substitute a box of cigars which were thoroughly appreciated and "nerved" the local players for the combat against terrific odds. The victors were royally entertained and the outing was a memorable one.

The score is shown in the following
table:

A Laughable Game of Ball.—The most farcical game of baseball of which we have known anything came off yesterday in Detroit between the first nine of the doctors and the first nine of the lawyers of that city. The ludicrousness of the scene will be more appreciated when it is understood that some of the players are still solid men—about as broad as they were long—and as they were unable to make the run from base to base, a runner was chosen for them. As singular as it may seem, one of the players who went by the name of Lang, was short in wind and had a runner make his home runs for him.

Before The Footlights

Next Tuesday's Attraction

"That rattling character comedy 'Checkers' is offered by the Myers theatre for the dedication of its patrons on Tuesday, Sept. 17, for an engagement of one night only. The remarkably successful play which is now beginning its fifth season, has been seen here before and return with its company practically the same as on the previous occasion. Hans Robert is 'Checkers' and Dave Graham repeats his success as the laughable 'Push' Miller. Lydia Dickson plays Cynthia, the chore girl, and necessary. 'Checkers' the book, left the hero in hard lines. 'Checkers' the play, ends with him standing on the threshold of a happy future. The story is a pretty one, strong and sympathetic as well as simple. As an example of an American play written about incidents of everyday American life and told in the words of everyday speech, it is nothing short of a classic.

The sentiment is honest and wholesome, and its sensational incident is presented in a natural and very striking way. There can be no one in

STEPHANIE LONGFELLOW AS "PERT" IN "CHECKERS," TUESDAY
Clare Armstrong is Sadie, the spirited chum of the heroine. Pert, the lovable heroine, is played by Stephanie Longfellow, grand niece of the poet, Miss Longfellow, though a very young girl, is described as possessing considerable skill and a very great deal of personal charm. The genial judge, strolling gentleman of the old southern school, is a character which has been entrusted to George Miller, who has played Col. Moberly in "Alabama," more than 500 times.
The play and the book from which it was taken, are too well known to make description of the plot

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

Mr. W. H. Jeffries brought back from the east, on a recent visit a copy of the following remarkable legacy which was read at the dinner of the Alumni association of the law department of New York university.

Mr. Lounsbury, the author, was a New York attorney, who later in life became insane and died at the Cook county asylum in Dunming, Illinois. The sentiment contained in the will is so choice that it is well worth reading and then reading again:

A WISE LEGACY

"I, Charles Lounsbury, being of sound mind and disposing memory, do hereby make and publish this, my last will and testament, in order as justly as may be, to distribute my interest in the world among succeeding men.

"That part of my interest which is known in law and recognized in the sheep-bound volumes, as my property, being inconsiderable and of no account, I make no disposal of in this my will.

"My right to live, being but a life-estate, is not at my disposal, but these things excepted, all else in the world I now proceed to devise and bequeath:

"Item: I give to good fathers and mothers, in trust for their children, all good little words of praise, and encouragement, and all quaint pet names and endearments, and I charge said parents to use them justly and generously, as the needs of their children may require.

"Item: I leave to children, inclusively, but only for the term of their childhood, all and every, the flowers of the fields, and the blossoms of the woods, with the right to play among them freely, according to the customs of children, warning them at the same time against thistles and thorns, and I devise to children, the banks of the brooks, and the golden sands beneath the water thereof and the odors of the willows that dip therein, and the white clouds that float high over the giant trees. And I leave the children the long, long days to be merry in, in a thousand ways, and the night and the moon and the train of the milky way to wonder at, but subject nevertheless, to the rights hereinafter given to lovers.

"Item: I devise to boys, jointly, all the useful idle fields and commons where ball may be played; all pleasant waters where one may swim; all snow clad hills where one may coast, and all streams and ponds where one may fish, or where, when grim winter comes, one may skate; to have and to hold the same for the period of their boyhood. And all meadows with the clover blossoms and butterflies thereof; the woods and their appurtenances; the squirrels and birds, and echoes and strange noises, and all distant places which may be visited, together with the adventures there found. And I give to said boys each his own place at the fireside at night, with all pictures that may be seen in the burning wood, to enjoy without let or hindrance and without any interference of care.

"Item: To lovers, I devise their imaginary world with whatever they may need; as the stars of the sky; the red roses by the wall; the bloom of the hawthorn; the sweet strains of music and night else they may desire to figure to each other; the loveliness and beauty of their love.

"Item: To young men, jointly, I devise and bequeath all boisterous, inspiring sports of rivalry, and I give to them the disdain of weakness and undaunted confidence in their own strength. Though they are rude, I give to them the power to make lasting friendships, and of possessing companions, and to them exclusively I give all merry songs and brave choruses, to sing with lusty voices.

"Item: And to those who are no longer children or youths or lovers, I leave memory, and I bequeath to them the volumes of the poems of Burns and Shakespeare and of other poets, if there be others, to the end that they may live over the old days again, freely and fully, without title or diminution.

"To our loved ones with snowy crowns, I bequeath the happiness of old age, the love and gratitude of their children until they fall asleep."

In this busy age, of sharp competition, when the struggle for existence is so absorbing, we are apt to overlook the choice inheritance which God, through nature and Providence, bequeathed to the race of humanity when the world was young.

Unlike any other inheritance this bequest is perpetual. No estate absorbs it, and no title controls it. The same starlit canopy that hung over the plains of Judea and cheered the patriarchs, is still intact. Time has not dimmed its lustre nor marred its grandeur.

The boy who swings on the gate and talks to his girl in the moonlight, goes home to build air castles and dream of the stars under the same canopy, for it was put up to stay.

The same water gurgles from myriad springs on the hillside, and the world lacks its thrill without a "thank-you," or thought of the providing hand.

The same snow-capped mountain peaks tower above the clouds for the perpetual enjoyment of generations yet unborn. We scale these peaks and call them freaks of nature, forgetful of the fact that an all-wise Creator works to a plan.

We stand at the mouth of a shaft and watch the miners as they step out of the car and are dazzled by the sunlight. They have been flying in the crevasses, half a mile below, for precious metal hid away so carefully that centuries passed before it was discovered.

Men acquire property by the right of inheritance and purchase, but nature has a storehouse which is not in the market and its contents are free to all corners of whatever race or nation.

The mind and the soul, may possess these treasures to overflowing without diminishing the stock, for they are like the cradle of all in the hands of the old prophet, or the barley leaf which multiplied under the magic touch of the man of Nazareth.

There are other things, outside the realm of nature which bless humanity, as a common inheritance, and yet are seldom appreciated.

They are products of the human mind, wrought out from the great field of science, through invention and discovery and given to the world as a perpetual inheritance.

Mon like Edison devote their lives to this kind of work, and electricity is harnessed to so many kinds of cars that we find it difficult to keep pace with the procession.

A corps of engineers start out to find the way for a thoroughfare, across the continent. They are ordinary men of expert ability and under their skillful touch mountains are subdued, canyons bridged, and a highway established.

We take a vestibule train, equipped with modern luxuries, and in three or four days are on the coast, without thought of the stupendous work which made the trip possible, and with nothing but complaint for the tardiness of the service.

In that more sacred realm, the realm of the heart, there are the same choice impulses which time fails to tarnish or corrode.

The love of the mother is as old as motherhood, the same priceless luring force today that found expression in the little cradle which rocked in the rushes of the Nile, so long ago.

get busy. He seems to have been lost in the last political shuffle.

With a few more candidates over in the third district Babcock might be able to go in and capture the prize.

The Fairbanks boom seems to be suffering from an attack of cold feet.

PRESS COMMENT.

In the Realm of Fancy
Milwaukee News: And the rich manufacturers are being dragged off to jail in the story book.

Country's Sure Going to Dogs
Pond du Lac Reporter: Current events in this country indicate that it is far more dangerous to rob a train than it is to steal the whole railroad.

A Wall from the Hay-Loft
Marquette Eagle-Star: When a load of hay brings over $50, it sounds well to the farmer but it must be death to the pocketbook of people who have to feed horses and cattle.

Bonanza for Bill-Posters
Chicago Record-Herald: "The Food Bill Sold in His Heart, 'There is No God,'" is the title of one of the new plays. We have been unable to learn why the author left out the rest of the Bible.

Is This Grindstone Punctured?
Oshkosh Northwestern: Japan has secured a naval base within easy walking distance of the Philippines, as the real estate men say. But of course she means nothing more by that than we do by sending a fleet around to the Pacific.

Ill-Timed
Washington Star: It is unfortunate that prophesies have selected February as the month in which a clash with Japan is to occur. Ground fog day is excellent enough for any one month, without having a war thrown in.

Is the Brother Hedging?
Madison Journal: Let us not forget, whatever the technical objections raised by Mr. Aylward, that Madison wishes an interurban line. As the State Journal has already expressed it, if we can't get a line built to Janesville then let us have one to Stoughton, and trust to the necessities of the situation for the closing of the gap between Janesville and Stoughton.

More Considerate Than "Jumpers"
Milwaukee Free Press: Mrs. Anna Bosant, leader of all the Theosophists, is perfectly satisfied that she has lived several times before this time, and says she believes in the transmigration of souls. She has also given out her belief that John D. Rockefeller is going to live again, next time as an angel. This will be good news for Rockefeller.

Well He Can Be "Regulated"
Appleton Post: And now about 20,000 of the farmers of Minnesota are about to merge their interests into one organization. It is a rather funny thing that the public never seems to take any interest in farmers' trusts, which if they were perfected and stuck to would boost the prices of grub to every mouth in the country, and thereby strike at the reserves of every existing pocketbook. It may be the farmer will some time seriously when it comes to trust making.

Didn't Buy Immunity
Wall Street Journal: The main point to be considered in relation to the $200,000 fund raised by rich capitalists for the republican campaign fund in the last days of the campaign in 1904 is:

Was any pledge made or promise given or goods delivered in connection with this transaction? Perhaps the contributors to this fund believed that they were buying something.

It is quite evident, however, that they did not get anything. They certainly secured no immunity against government prosecution.

But One Great Actor Left
Musical Leader and Concert-Giver: Irving Goss, Muskegon taken his last call, remains Forbes Robertson, the finest "Hamlet" since Booth. This actor is in a class by himself, second to none. For that matter, the Anglo-American stage now is at about its lowest ebb for actors of the first rank, for nobody save themselves and their press agents would rank Edward Sothern, E. S. Willard, Beerholm Tree, George Alexander, Martin Harvey, Henry Miller, Henry Irving the II, or Wilton Lackaye actors of the first rank. It is a case of Forbes Robertson, and the rest nowhere in the running. We have lots of first-class comedians, for example, Nat Goodwin, whose "Shylock" was a splendid piece of comedy acting.

"Why American Marriages Fail"
New York Commercial: The most widely discussed article in the periodicals of the month is not Mr. Roosevelt's second attack upon the nature story writers, but Mrs. Anna M. Rogers' discussion, in the September Atlantic Monthly of the reasons "Why American Marriages Fail." Her theory is that in nine divorces cases out of ten the wife is to blame, because with her marriage is the great duty and work in life, while of necessity with the husband business or profession divides his interest. Mr. Rogers holds that American women are overfed, over-dressed and over-ideal. The frantic and extensive shopping noticed in our large cities, the devotion to personal vanities and the general extravagance of living are all signs that making a home and dwelling therein does not fill the modern woman's hours.

Third Term O. K.—Dean Collie George L. Collie, dean of Beloit college, writes as follows to the New York World: "I see no inherent reason why a third term for President Roosevelt is objectionable. He has inaugurated important movements and policies which no one else can carry to completion as well as he. In his case, as you suggest, the third term is a quibble at best, and he ought to follow the people, who believe in him and trust him, to express their confidence in a second presidential election. It is much more important that certain principles which Roosevelt stands for should be maintained for a further term of years than that he should have his way in refusing another nomination. All this objection to a third term (so called) is sentimental twaddle anyway."

Lusitania and Turbine Problems
Evening Wisconsin: The behavior of the Lusitania on her first run was interesting not only because of her immensity and her power, but because she is the largest steamer in which the new turbine engine has ever been placed. In this regard she constitutes a very costly experiment, and the eyes of the engineering world have been upon her from the day she took her initial plunge into the water. According to the messages received from the Lusitania the turbines operated successfully, and without the vibration which is characteristic of steamers which are driven for records with the reciprocating engine. This advantage has been noted before, and it has also been realized that the turbine is able to drive a ship faster than can the reciprocating engine, because of its direct application to the shafts and the consequently greater number of revolutions per minute. But the economy of the turbine is a matter of grave doubt, and one of the first inquiries of engineers will be as to the daily consumption of coal.

While the turbine engine is particularly advantageous in driving a ship, it cannot be reversed. This grave fault has been offset by the installation of special reversing turbines which run idly in vacuum when the ship is moving forward. To overcome this disadvantage in a more practical way, and probably with a view also of compensating on the fuel question, the White star line has placed an order with Belfast builders for two large transatlantic steamers to be driven by a combined reciprocating and turbine engine plant. Power on these ships will be developed on three shafts, the outer two of which will be driven by quadruple expansion engines of the reciprocating type, and the central shaft by a low-pressure turbine operated by the exhaust steam from the low-pressure cylinder of the reciprocating engines. For going astern, the reciprocating engines will be used, while for fast progress all three engines will be driven in combination.

from Male Golfers.
The London express says the golf links of the country are fast becoming "vast hairpin cemeteries" and that unfortunately most of the millions of hairpins in them are only half buried.

"With their business ends uppermost to the annoyance and even danger of the players.

DYNAMITE IN GRAIN BUNDLES.
Five Thrashing Hands Badly Injured on Wisconsin Farm.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 14.—An explosion of dynamite placed in a bundle of grain injured five men and wrecked a thrashing machine Friday on the farm of Peter Peterson near here. Investigation developed the fact that sticks of dynamite had been placed in several bundles of grain. The miscreant has not been located.

Pettibone in Critical Condition.
Boise, Idaho, Sept. 14.—George A. Pettibone, charged with complicity in the murder of Gov. Steunenberg, was taken to the hospital Friday in a critical condition and an operation probably will be necessary. There will be no further prosecution of the case at present.

Swing Breaks, Six Injured.
Pomeroy, O., Sept. 14.—An "ocean wave" swing carrying a hundred persons, broke down at the Melks County fair Friday and six persons were injured, three seriously.

It Is Really Marvelous

the operations in Surgical Dentistry that Dr. Richards is enabled to do without hurting people.

His patients appreciate what they are getting, too, for they stick to him. Why shouldn't they, when they can say, as they repeatedly do: "Dr. Richards, you hurt me the least of any dentist I ever had work for me."

Hardly a day passes without some one thanking him in about the above language.

The children love him too, because they find that a sympathetic, careful man is working over them and they know their confidence will not be violated.

A MONTH

IN ONLY NINE MONTHS' TIME

We said yesterday we could beat sixty dollars a month.

Therefore it's up to us to make good.

That's our strongest point. We can always make good.

Read the following letter from one of our graduates who tells us he is getting $77.75 a month in only nine months from the day he joined our school. He has a brother working for the same road who is doing even better.

Dear Sirs: I am going to drop you a few lines to let you know my promotion. I am now operator here. Salary $70 a month, and my overtime, amounting in all to $77.75 a month. Not so bad, for it's only nine months. Since I first joined your school, I think you many times for the help of your school and teachers.

Your old student,
E. P. LITTLE.

If Mr. Little's letter interests you you might write him and ask him what he thinks of our school and its methods.

EXCELLENT PLAY WAS SEEN BY SMALL HOUSE

"Under Southern Skies" Deserved Larger Audience at Myers Opera House Last Night.

Metropolitan theatregoers who failed to put in an appearance at the Myers theatre last evening to witness the production of the play "Under Southern Skies," the name of which speaks for the play itself, missed one of the best performances of the kind that has been seen on the local stage for some time. The play, as staged last evening, was deserving of a far larger house than witnessed it but the lack of numbers was balanced up by the appreciation of those who saw it. Thos. S. Gibson, who had the leading role of Major Edward Crofton, left little to suggest when it comes to producing the true Southern gentleman of the best of days before the troops of the Southern aristocracy had become extinct. In a role where the force of character and manhood are called for, as in the character of Major Crofton, many fall short before reaching what is expected, but not so with Mr. Gibson. Miss Frances McHenry, in the role of Lella Crofton, the pretty 18-year-old Southern daughter during the time of 1875 when the houses were an abundance of girls, appeared remarkably well, though suffering from a severe cold. The remainder of the characters were aptly filled, and added their strength to the typical Southern play that portrays the gayety and sentiment of the people who live in the country of "King Cotton."

DELAY IN DELIVERIES HINDERS CANNERY

Corn Has Not Been Received in Large Enough Quantities Up Till Today.

Delays in the delivery of corn to the P. Hohmann & Co. cannery factory during the past week resulted in some thirty women and girls laying off this morning. The tobacco harvest and recent rain with subsequent cold kept growers from bringing in the corn and the force of sixty or sixty-five hands at the cannery have for a few days been short of work. The company pays two and a half cents per bushel for husking corn and when a woman has plenty of corn she can make good money at that price. Yesterday one girl husked forty-eight bushels in the forenoon. As corn has been scarce on some days the pay has been slim and the workers today decided to wait until good money could be made. A large quantity of corn was delivered today and so work will be plentiful Monday. By the end of next week when the delivering season is at its height the full force will be back in service. The season will last four weeks or more.

FIVE MEN NEEDED TO HOLD BEAR CUB

"Ephraim," Bitten by Violent Bulldog, Could Not Understand Veterinary Was Friend.

As "Ephraim," the largest of the two bear cubs at the city hall, reached his paw through the grating of the cage, when Officer Mason approached with his supper last evening, he was seized by a violent bulldog, held on a strap by a spectator. The bulldog fastened his teeth in the bear's paw and before the owners and officers could choke him off had torn the skin off the top of the paw, cut entirely through in one place and nearly ripped out one toe-nail. Leo Brownell happened to be in the vicinity with his runabout and with Officer Brown the two men brought Veterinary Perschbacher to the city hall. When the doctor began dressing the wound the cub fought violently and five men, one at each paw and another at the head, were needed to hold the animal. Several stitches were taken in the foot and it is not thought the bear will be permanently lame. The owner of the dog paid for the surgical services and at the request of Acting Marshal Brown turned over a valuable diamond as security, should further veterinary attendance be needed or the bear die.

Another Ferocious Bulldog This noon a ferocious bulldog tied under a transient horse trader's wagon on Pleasant street, near the bridge, seized a passing animal and it was five minutes before chocking, crying and water doubling removed the teeth from the other canine's ear. Some fifty people witnessed the excitement.

TRIAL OF HILLER AGAIN ADJOURNED

Set For Same Date as Dugan Case With Idea That Latter May Be Further Postponed.

There being a possibility that contingencies may arise which will further postpone the trial of Florence Dugan, charged with shooting George Schumaker, the case of the state against Will Hiller, accused of assault with intent to rob, was this morning adjourned in municipal court to Monday, September 30, the date set for the Dugan trial. The postponement of the Hiller trial was for the purpose of accommodating Judge Field who left at noon for his annual vacation. The judge, J. E. Wortendyke, E. Behrendt and Mr. Norris from the east went to Minocqua and from there will paddle down the Tomahawk river. Judges Grimm and Sale are the only other magistrates having jurisdiction in a criminal case here and the former is sitting on the circuit bench at Jefferson and the latter is bound with work which accumulated during his vacation. It was considered impossible to take up the Hiller case until Judge Field's return. If the Dugan trial is held on the date set the Hiller case will follow immediately. The assault and battery case against August Drafiel was also called this morning and for reasons similar to those in the Hiller adjournment the trial was postponed until October 7. Both Hiller and Drafiel are still out on their original bail bonds.

TWO HUNDRED WENT TO CHURCH PICNIC

Students of Presbyterian Sunday School, Chaperoned by Teachers and Parents, Enjoy Day.

Today, which will probably be one of the last warm, pleasant days of this year, is being fully enjoyed by two hundred people at Yock's park on the northern line, the occasion being the annual picnic of the Presbyterian Sunday school. The students are chaperoned by their teachers and parents. At noon a picnic dinner was served and the afternoon is being spent in games and the usual park sports.

Walworth County Fair. Wednesday—Children's Free Day. Everything in holiday form.

A Massachusetts court holds that a certificate of deposit is designed to circulate as money like bills of the bank and to be used for convenience and safety. That is all we claim for them and the court decision clinches the matter. They are the only form of money that draws interest from date and like any other form they are redeemable on demand. Like money in your pocket the bank can not be garnished, for whoever they may have been issued to the bank has no means of knowing to whom they may at present belong. They are convenient because of their easy negotiability and safe because they must be properly endorsed before we will pay them.

WELLMAN STARTS; IS DRIVEN BACK

ARCTIC "EXPLORER'S" AIRSHIP
LANDS ON A GLACIER.

STORM IS ENCOUNTERED

Machinery Worked Well, but Gale
Was Too Strong—Attempt to Reach Pole Abandoned
For Year.

Tromsø, Norway, Sept. 14.—Walter Wellman and his party, composing the Wellman-Chicago Record-Herald polar expedition, arrived here Thursday evening on the steamer Frithjof from Spitzbergen.

Mr. Wellman says the airship America left her shed September 2 and made an ascent in bad weather, but she proved so strong and behaved so well that a start north was immediately made. The airship, however, encountered a storm, was driven back and landed on top of a glacier. Everything was saved.

Airship Beats Steamer.

When the airship left the shed it was anchored to a steamer, the Express, which helped to tow it to Vogel Bay island, two miles northward to Camp Wellman. Reenberg and Vanderman occupied the car. The motor was found to work splendidly and, when it was started, drove the America ahead of the steamer. It was found that the airship answered her helm well.

Beaten Back Over Mainland.

Off Vogel Bay island the America was freed from her anchor rope, but an increasing gale and a driving snow storm beat her backward over the mainland of Spitzbergen. Seeing the hopelessness of attempting to battle with the gale the valves were opened and the balloon quickly descended on a glacier.

The occupants of the car secured the balloon. A rescue party from the steamer reached the glacier an hour and a half later and had considerable difficulty in saving the airship. The balloon portion had to be cut in two and the car was taken to pieces in order to enable the rescuers to transport it over the ice hills and shores to the sea. After two days' work this was successfully accomplished and on the evening of September 4 the members of the expedition got back to Dane's Island, whence they sailed for Tromsø September 8. Major Iversen is returning in a fishing boat.

Announces Plan to Delay.

Tromsø, Norway, Sept. 14.—Walter Wellman on arriving at Tromsø announced that he had definitely abandoned for this year, after a disastrous trial of his airship, the proposed attempt to reach the north pole.

The airship ascent September 2 was in a strong northwesterly wind, which drove her southeastward over the land. It was found necessary to cut the balloon adrift from the other parts of the airship, but it was recovered after two days' search.

Mr. Wellman says he will make another attempt, with a new airship, in 1908.

BREAK IN WIRE STRIKE.

Eight Postal Operators Return to Work in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 14.—There was a decisive break in the local telegraphers' strike Friday when eight former striking operators, including the vice president of the local telegraphers' union, returned to work with the Postal Telegraph & Cable company. Superintendent Collins said that the Postal company within the last day or two had been able to open for the first time several of its most important branch offices in the Cleveland division.

The officials of the Western Union Telegraph company stated that they had taken back several operators who had been on strike and officials of both companies declared that while the volume of business being handled was now smaller than the normal amount, everything that is being offered is handled with reasonable dispatch on the part of the companies.

Writ of Error Saves Isthmus Negro.
Washington, Sept. 14.—The war department was advised Friday that the writ of error granted by Chief Justice Fuller in the case of Adolphus Colson, the West Indian negro sentenced to death for poisoning his wife in the canal zone, was served on the Isthmian judicial authorities on September 4. The case involves the right of trial by jury in the canal zone. Colson was to have been hanged Friday.

Oriental Fight on Shipboard.
San Francisco, Sept. 14.—One hundred and fifty Japanese and Chinese cannery hands engaged in a desperate battle with knives on the high seas during the voyage of the bark Elestra to this port from Nushagak, Alaska, and the encounter terminated only after more than a dozen of the contestants had been wounded and as many more placed in irons in the vessel's brig.

Defaulter's Friend Tries Suicide.
New Orleans, Sept. 14.—Virginia Reed, the negro woman who, according to Charles E. Lottin, the defaulting tax clerk here, received about $30,000 out of the $100,000 or more he stole from the state, attempted to commit suicide Friday by jumping into the Bayou St. John. She was fished out just in time to save her from drowning.

Perpetual Scintillations.
The necessity of perpetually scintillating is one of the most wearing demands of the age.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT OVER

VETERANS INSTALL OFFICERS AND ADJOURN UNTIL 1908.

Resolutions Urging Legislation on Various Matters Adopted—Appointments by Commander-in-Chief.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic who have been attending the forty-first annual encampment of the organization concluded their business Friday and adjourned until 1908.

Installation of the officers elected Thursday, adoption of several recommendations from the committee on resolutions and Commander-in-Chief Burton's announcement of appointive officers took up the time of the veterans.

The officers were installed by Robert B. Heath, of Philadelphia, past commander-in-chief. The encampment adopted the report of the committee on resolutions which recommended legislation by congress authorizing the erection of a soldiers' hospital in the vicinity of the Gulf of Mexico; increasing widows' pensions to $12 a month; providing some suitable memorial for the soldiers and sailors of the union army who were in the south when the war began and did not join the southern forces, and directing that widows of soldiers buried in the national cemeteries may be buried beside their husbands. These recommendations will be incorporated in bills to be presented to congress.

Commander-in-Chief Burton's appointments include the following: Jero T. Dew, Kansas City, Mo., adjutant general; Charles Burrows, Ruthford, N. J., quartermaster general; Col. D. R. Stowitz, Buffalo, inspector general; L. L. Collins, Minneapolis, Minn., judge advocate general; J. Henry Heacom, Philadelphia, assistant general and custodian of records; J. Corie Winans, Toledo, O., senior aide-de-camp and chief of staff.

FRISCO NEED NOT BE ALARMED.

President of Health Board Issues Reassuring Bulletin on Plague.

San Francisco, Sept. 14.—The following official announcement was made Friday concerning the local plague situation:

"To the people of San Francisco: Rumors of an alarming nature having reached the board of health in regard to the so-called bubonic plague, the president of the board, by its authority, hereby declares that there exists at the present in San Francisco nothing that need cause any alarm, much less the quarantining of the city, and that there is at present no intention to make such quarantine."

"So far there have been detected but 24 verified cases of the disease since the twenty-seventh day of May last. Every precaution is being taken by the federal authorities in cooperation with the state and city boards of health to stamp out such of the disease as is here. It is well to bear in mind that bubonic plague seldom becomes epidemic except in the tropics. W. Opals, president San Francisco board of health."

New Chain-Making Machine.
An automatic chain-making machine has been perfected. A steel bar is drawn in at one end of the machine, leaving at the other end in the form of a steel link chain completely assembled. In the process of manufacturing none of the metal is lost, the weight of the chain upon completion being exactly that of the metal before manufacture.

Hard to Obey.
A certain strong man gives these rules for nervous women: Eat when you are hungry; don't eat when you are not; get plenty of sleep; don't worry. The only trouble with these rules are that they are so easy they are hard.

Hawthorne's Mental Sight.
Hawthorne's mental sight in discerning souls is marvelously penetrating and accurate, but he finds it so difficult to give them an adequate physical embodiment that their very flesh is spiritualized, and appears to be brought into the representation only to give a kind of phantasmal form to purely mental conceptions.—
L. P. Whipple.

Where Living Is High.
The ment bill of a wealthy Newport summer colonist averages nearly $1,000 a month, and has been known to exceed $2,000. The expense of entertainment may reach $50,000 a season. The caterer's bill always runs into the thousands.—Broadway Magazine.

The Snow College of Dress Cutting, Designing and Making

There is no Woman Who Cannot Learn to Sew.

The average lady appreciates the value of such an education and wishes for it, but in the past the great difficulty has been how and where to acquire it in a satisfactory manner. So the idea of a thoroughly equipped school, in charge of trained teachers, where the art of costume making may be studied in a scientific manner, will appeal to the thinking person as a good one.

It is impossible to give an adequate explanation of such work in paper, and feeling that the proposition is at least worthy of consideration, we invite you to read the accompanying statement, and if interested, in examining the plans of work in detail, drop a card to SNOW'S COLLEGE, Janesville, Wis., and the representative will be glad to call at your home.

SNOW'S COLLEGE.

The Course of Instruction is so arranged as to be adapted to the needs of the beginner, the amateur or the experienced professional. It is divided into departments, and while pupils usually follow the regular course, those who wish to devote their attention to any particular branch are allowed to do so. The beginner, with possibly no previous knowledge of sewing, receives such a training with actual experience as will enable her to select just those features that will best suit her needs.

The course introduces all of the latest ideas and methods, is thorough, systematic and practical, and covers every branch of dressmaking and ladies' tailoring. It is divided into four distinct departments: Waist Cutting and Designing, Skirt Cutting and Designing, Fancy Finishing and Ladies' Tailoring.

OUR METHODS

are applied to any class of cutting and will follow every possible change of fashion. They work purely automatically, have no rules or proportions to be learned and remembered, are absolutely perfect fitting, and for ease of learning, speed and style are undoubtedly superior to all other methods.

While for the professional they are simply invaluable, they are most practical for the beginner or home dressmaker. Being very easy to learn and producing absolutely correct results, they enable one to do the most difficult cutting with perfect ease and confidence.

Instructors.—The class room is in charge of lady teachers having had years of experience in their respective departments, and who will be found to be patient, courteous and efficient.

Ladies are cordially invited to visit the class-room and see the successful demonstration of a successful work.

THE BENNETT MONUMENTS

There are two all-important points to keep in mind in selecting a monument or memorial.

One is the quality of the stone.

The other is the quality of our monuments in and finish.

It is on the superiority of our monuments in these two particulars that we base our claim to excellence.

Not a piece of granite or marble is used in our works that is not fully up to the highest standard.

And only the most skilled workmen are employed in every branch of cutting, lettering and finishing.

We will gladly show you our stock and explain our superior methods of work.

We have just received 100 beautiful up-to-date designs.

All work done with pneumatic tools.
